

Student Guide to the AMWA 101st Anniversary Meeting March 10th-13th, 2016

The American Medical Women's Association is delighted that you are attending our 101st Anniversary Meeting in Miami. As students, we are part of one of the most exciting times in healthcare. We are on the forefront of healthcare reform, and are key figures in the continuing discussion on women's reproductive rights. As such, the national conference provides an invaluable opportunity to meet with like-minded individuals, get involved, and learn what we can do to fulfill our roles as student doctors and future physicians. We are looking forward to you joining us this year in Miami at The Hilton, and we hope that this guide will help you not only plan for your trip but excite you about the various events that we have planned. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us with any questions during the meeting. If you cannot find us in person please email us at conference@amwa-student.org and we will get back to you as soon as possible.

Meeting Highlights

We encourage attendees to participate in as many meeting events as possible but here is a list of what we think cannot be missed.

Research

AMWA believes that research and networking are critical in the progression of medicine. At the conference, you will have the incredible opportunity to view research conducted by fellow students, as well as residents and physicians from around the country. Poster Presentations will be held Saturday and posters will be up for viewing throughout the day so take a few minutes to see the research that our participants have been working on.

Elections

Elections are a key component to the success of AMWA. The success of our student division is because of members like you! Our positions allow members opportunities to advance the field of medicine for women and get involved with many different opportunities in healthcare. This year's elections took place via online ballots and are now closed for this current year; however, AMWA has many student, resident, and physician run committees that welcome support! To find out more information and to get involved please check out the Committee Mixer being held on Friday at 11:30am and Saturday starting at 11:15am.

Volunteering

Volunteers make the Centennial possible! You are the building blocks of all AMWA events and help make the future of AMWA possible. We sincerely thank you for offering your time. Please sign up here:

<https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/14JX-i487ynnHCmxVLNHCRC0bud50cZpmWYcMtmrX81e0/edit?usp=sharing> for any open volunteering slots that interest you. Volunteer Huddles take place each morning of the conference so please join us to find out more about volunteer roles and expectations. In the meantime, if you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at conference@amwa-student.org.
