

“I kept thinking if I could just keep my mouth
shut and do what they tell me,
I’ll be fine, but I wasn’t really so good at that.”

The Jesse Brown VA Women Veterans Program

presents a special performance of Rivendell Theatre Ensemble’s World Premiere production

WOMEN AT WAR

Written By Megan Carney

Directed by Tara Mallen

A debate rages over whether females should serve on the frontlines, yet more women are being sent into active combat zones than ever before.

Woven from extensive research and first-person interviews, WOMEN AT WAR exposes these women’s rich and complex stories of military service and their return to civilian life.

Saturday, November 7, 2015

4:00pm Resource Fair

4:30pm Performance immediately followed by a Town Hall Discussion

Jesse Brown VA Medical Center

820 South Damen Avenue, Chicago, IL 60612—2nd Floor Conference Center

Admission is free but seating is limited

RSVP at: <https://jbvawaw.eventbrite.com/>

Questions? Contact Jenny Sitzer at Jenny.Sitzer@va.gov

This event was made possible by the generous donation from Celebrating All That Is Feminine (CATIF)

Since 1994, Rivendell Theatre Ensemble has been committed to advancing the lives of women through theatre. As Chicago’s only professional woman-centered theatre company, Rivendell presents new works in an intimate environment at their home theatre in Edgewater. www.rivendelltheatre.org