

BIH EXCELLENCE AWARD for Sex and Gender Aspects in Health Research

40.000 EUR
for your research

Apply until June 30, 2019!

The award aims to bring more visibility to sex and gender issues in translational research. It recognizes research excellence among scientists working in the field of biomedicine, who integrate sex and/or gender aspects into their research. The award focuses on both the research impact of the applicant and their future research cooperation with a partner from the BIH translational research commons of BIH, Charité or Max Delbrück Center (MDC). In bringing the laureate's expertise to Berlin, BIH aims to connect the award winner with their chosen collaborators in the BIH translational research commons.

Further information:
www.bihealth.org/en/award

Contact information:
karin.hoehne@bihealth.de

The Berlin Institute of Health (BIH) is a biomedical research institution focusing on translational research and precision medicine. BIH is dedicated to improving the prediction in progressive diseases and developing advanced therapies for unmet medical needs in order to improve patients' health and quality of life.

