July 25 – 28, 2019

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered at the New York Marriott, Brooklyn Bridge, for Medical Women – Ambassadors of Change, the 100th Congress of the Medical Women’s International Association. Welcome to the great City of New York!

Founded by American physician and suffrage activist Dr. Esther Lovejoy in 1919, the Medical Women’s International Association has passionately advanced the many roles of women in the field of medicine. We recognize and value outstanding organizations and initiatives, such as the MWIA, that are dedicated to making a positive difference in the quality of health care for the people of the Empire State.

This weekend, you come together to network, confer, and share best practices on personal and professional development for women physicians, medical students, and residents from countries and cultures around the globe. I commend presenters and participants for generously sharing their knowledge and expertise, and for their continued efforts in highlighting the accomplishments and advancing the leadership of women in medicine.

With warmest regards and best wishes for a productive and enjoyable conference.

Sincerely,

ANDREW M. CUOMO

Dear Congress Attendees,

On the occasion of the Centennial Congress of the Medical Women's International Association, it is a great pleasure as well as a privilege to extend words of welcome from the Secretariat.

Thank you to AMWA for hosting the Congress in New York City, as it was in 1919 that Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy and her colleagues met at the Waldorf Astoria to inaugurate MWIA. We have come full circle as we meet again in New York to celebrate 100 years since that momentous occasion. MWIA needs to continue the work of Dr. Lovejoy by supporting medical women to take the higher leadership roles and to be the voice for women who have no voice, advocating for women's health as well as gender equity and empowerment.

This will be my last congress as Secretary General and CEO, and I must thank my predecessor, Dr. Waltraud Diekhaus, for her persistence that I take on this role. Dr. Diekhaus felt that although the President was the spokesperson, the Secretariat was the heart and soul of the organization. I have enjoyed working with several executives and extend best wishes to the incoming 2019-2022 executive. At the congress I look forward to seeing many familiar MWIA faces and meeting many physicians who are new to MWIA. See you soon in New York City!

Warmly,
Shelley Ross, MD, CCFP, FCFP, ICD.D
Secretary General, Medical Women's International Association

Dr. Shelley Ross has spent her career as a full service Family Physician in Burnaby, BC, Canada. She has a special interest in women's health and a particular focus on providing maternity care to countless women over the years. She began her involvement with organized medicine with the Federation of Medical Women of Canada and became FMWC National President, then President of MWIA and is currently the MWIA Secretary General. Her first involvement with MWIA was as a Young Forum member during the 1984 Congress in Vancouver. She was President of her provincial medical association, the Doctors of BC, and sits on the board of the Canadian Medical Association where she chairs its governance committee.
Dear Congress Attendees,

A very warm welcome to the MWIA Centennial Congress. AMWA is honored to host this wonderful celebration! I am proud to welcome you to my home state of New York and hope that you explore NY before and after the meeting.

In 1919, 140 women physicians from 16 countries gathered in New York City for the first International Congress of Women Physicians. The American Women's Hospitals, a committee of AMWA, hosted a dinner to honor women physicians who had returned from wartime service in France. From this gathering, MWIA was formed to “exchange ideas and unite efforts for the benefit of mankind.” U.S. physician Dr. Esther P. Lovejoy was elected the first president. Now we gather 100 years later with more than 1,000 women from over 40 countries. Although we have made progress in this age where TIME’S UP Healthcare and the #MeToo movement are going global, we still have so far to go! I envision a world where every woman can practice medicine at her full potential, with pay equity and the ability to rise to her desired level of leadership, free from discrimination and harassment.

Please connect with the women at this meeting. Get to know each other’s cultures and create lifetime friendships. We will continue to exchange ideas and unite efforts for the benefit of womankind!

Warmest regards,
Roberta E. Gebhard, DO
President of the American Medical Women’s Association

Roberta E. Gebhard, DO is a board certified family physician and the first osteopathic physician to lead AMWA. She has been an AMWA leader for over 25 years and founded AMWA’s Gender Equity Task Force. She is also an Advisory Board Member of TIME’S UP Healthcare. A graduate of University of New England College of Osteopathic Medicine, Dr. Gebhard completed her residency at the Mid-Hudson Family Practice Residency Program. Throughout her career, she has worked as a full-spectrum family physician, an academic family physician, a hospitalist and a nursing home director in addition to government service in the Veterans administration, Indian Health Service and the National Health Service Corps. She has authored or co-authored articles and book chapters on gender equity and procedures in primary care. She has four adult children and lives in Grand Island, NY with Greg, her husband of 35 years.

Dear Colleagues,

AMWA is honored to be hosting the MWIA Centenary Congress – truly a momentous event, thanks to the vision of our foremothers nearly 100 years ago. Planning this Congress was a monumental undertaking but fortunately not one that we undertook alone. We owe thanks to so many on this 3-year journey: Dr. Atsuko Heshiki who first inspired us, Dr. Shelley Ross who stepped in to help and guide us along the way, the Korean Medical Women’s Association who so generously hosted the sand art performance, other national associations, UN colleagues, MWIA and AMWA leaders and supporters, and most of all, you -- speakers, delegates and attendees who hail from over 40 countries around the world. May this be a time to reflect on our shared history, exchange medical knowledge, and build collegial relationships.

Warmly on behalf of the AMWA Local Organizing Committee,
Dr. Padmini Murthy, Dr. Eliza Lo Chin, Dr. Amanda Xi, Dr. Theresa Rohr-Kirchgraber, Dr. Connie Newman
Dear Colleagues,

It is a great honor to attend the Centennial Congress of the Medical Women's International Association (MWIA). It is time to celebrate one hundred years of intelligent women using their talent and drive to make this world a better place.

I am struck by the often impressive and historical places where the conferences are organized. The high standard of presentations inspires us to overcome uncertainty and realize our ambitions, informs us about diseases encountered on 6 continents and the way to treat them, and offers a global platform on which we can share our achievements and seek mentorship in this highly interesting network. In a world where ‘#MeToo’ lit the cover of Pandora’s box, it is more than ever time for sisterhood, to empower each other and break the glass ceiling. As women keep struggling to pursue their ambitions and combine this with family life, we also feel grateful. As Julie Graham said “I don’t know what the future holds. But I’m stepping forward with grit anchored in grace.”

Sincerely,
Geneviève Koolhaas, MD
Chair, yMWIA

Dr. Geneviève Koolhaas is a resident in cardiology with a special interest for acute/intensive care medicine. She is the chair of young MWIA, National Coordinator for the Netherlands, Northern Europe, and a participant in the foundation Compassion for Care.

Dear Attendees,

The International Scientific Committee extends a warm welcome to all delegates. The program promises to provide a wide variety of topics, so attendees are sure to find an area that spikes their interest. There was a great deal of interest by MWIA members from around the world to participate. We have selected an outstanding line-up of over 100 speakers and over 300 posters. Following the opening plenaries will be an overview of the history of MWIA and then breakout sessions, workshops, film screenings and wrapping up with plenaries once again.

Sessions cover global health, women’s health, gender equity, violence against women, sexual harassment, obesity as a global health crisis, leadership and professional development, maternal and women’s health, digital health innovation, work life balance and the prevention of burnout, and gender specific medicine. Key sessions will focus on MWIA’s work in gender and health—a breakout on gender equity provides a primer followed by a discussions of the impact on women physicians around the world; a workshop on violence against women introduces MWIA’s online training module; and an international panel on HPV prevention highlights MWIA’s leadership in hosting national HPV prevention weeks. These sessions will forward MWIA’s dual mandate of supporting the leadership of women in medicine and advocating for women’s health issues.

We wish you a most memorable congress and hope you will enjoy the scientific program.

Dear Resident Attendees,

Welcome to the MWIA Centennial Congress in the great city of New York! I am privileged to be part of AMWA and MWIA, organizations that are crucial to women's professional and personal development in medicine. We have made great strides, but female physicians continue to be underrepresented in leadership and marginalized in salaries. As President of the Resident Division, I am eager to focus on mentorship between women at all career stages, physician wellness, and recruiting more members to this important cause. Each meeting, I am star-struck by powerful leaders and inspired by how much support they have received and are willing to give back to our members. Take advantage of all these opportunities!

Warmly,
Anna Zelivianskaia, MD

Anna is a senior resident in obstetrics and gynecology at Georgetown University. She completed B.A. degrees in anthropology and biology with honors at the University of Chicago. She then stayed in Chicago for medical school at the University of Illinois-Chicago where her passion for public health blossomed. Her interest in policy motivated her move to Washington DC. Throughout medical school and residency, Anna had the privilege of being involved with AMWA in various roles and is excited to be President of the residency division. Anna has also worked extensively with the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists to promote access to women’s healthcare.

Dear Colleagues,

It is an honor to welcome you to the MWIA Centennial Congress! We are here with shared values and goals. We envision a world where women are healthy and empowered, and we are prepared to do the work to make that world a reality. My hope is that over the next few days we can create a community to carry home with us, so that we are reminded that we are never working alone. We are part of a greater mission for the betterment of everyone and I believe in what we can accomplish together.

With all my heart,
Mollie Marr, BFA

Mollie Marr is an MD/PhD candidate and second year student in the Department of Behavioral Neuroscience at Oregon Health & Science University in the laboratory of Drs. Damien Fair and Alice Graham. Her research examines maternal psychological stress during pregnancy and the intergenerational transmission of childhood trauma. She is the current AMWA Student Division President. She double-majored in Theatre and Psychology, receiving her BFA from Tisch School of the Arts at New York University.

Dear Premedical Student Attendees,

On behalf of AMWA's Premedical Division, I would like to welcome all attendees to the 2019 MWIA Conference! It is an honor to be here with you all. As a Premedical member, I am continuously inspired by the network of professionals I am fortunate enough to meet through this organization, and I hope to continue to meet many new members this weekend! AMWA has shown me all the incredibly powerful things that can happen when women come together in support of one another, and I am looking forward to celebrating our incredible network here this weekend.

Warmly,
Lara Rostomian

Lara Rostomian is an undergraduate premedical student at the University of California Berkeley (Class of 2020) studying Integrative Biology and minor in both Theatre and Global Public Health. She has spent this summer conducting independent research on Family Planning Needs in Armenia. She plans to pursue a Masters in Public Health as well as a Medical Doctorate with the ultimate goal of working as a healthcare provider in the field of Women’s Reproductive Health.

CONGRESS ANNOUNCEMENTS & INFORMATION

Getting Around: Subway is the fastest way to go into/out of Manhattan. A subway ride will earn you a free bus transfer within 2 hours. Taxis and app-based ride services (Lyft, Uber) are also available. The city is divided by 5th Avenue into the West and East Side. The Brooklyn Bridge Marriott is easily accessible to almost all subway lines.

Discount Delegate Pass: Visit the Congress website to get valuable discounts to restaurants and tourist sites.

Historic Brooklyn Bridge Photos: Entrance leading to the bridge is a short walk from the Brooklyn Bridge Marriott. Don’t miss your chance to take iconic photos! See map below.

See the Statue of Liberty: Official tours need to be booked in advance, but for a free viewing, you can also take the Staten Island Ferry from lower Manhattan (2 subway stops from Jay Street Metro Tech). 25 min ride each way.

Brooklyn Historical Society (Free Admission): Docent Tour Thursday, July 25, 3:30pm. Special exhibit “Taking Care of Brooklyn, Stories of Sickness and Health.”

Brooklyn Museum (famed Judy Chicago Dinner Party exhibit): Group visit Thursday, July 25 11:00am-1:30pm with visit to the HERStory Lesbian Archives at 2:00pm. 200 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn. RSVP lwatersmd@gmail.com.

“New York City has a heartbeat—it is in the rhythm of the subway trains, the pulse of the lights, the breath over the Hudson and East Rivers, a constant in and out—and it is shared by everyone who walks her streets, a communal rhythm, hearts connected in the space of a shared moment, a shared breath, a shared experience. — Mollie Marr, AMWA Student President

Centennial Merchandise: Limited quantities of scarves, mugs, and T-shirts. The MWIA Bazaar will feature gifts from international delegates. Revenues from the bazaar support the work of MWIA.

Book Signings: Come meet our physician authors who will book sign during the lunch and afternoon breaks.

Wifi: There is no wifi in the meeting rooms, but just around the corner in the Marriott Lobby, there is FREE wifi. Basic functions of the Whova meeting app work without wifi, so you can access the agenda and other information. Be sure to download the app in the Marriott Lobby. Join Marriott Rewards to get free wifi in your hotel room.

Regional Meetings & Dinner: Meet new colleagues and reconnect with friends. Held at St. Francis College, Cafeteria, 180 Remsen St., Brooklyn (a 5-minute walk from the Marriott, see map). Thursday, July 25, 4:15-5:30 pm.

MWIA Breakfast for Congress attendees on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday mornings at Potbelly and Au Bon Pain (next to the Marriott Brooklyn Bridge, see map) between 7:30-8:30 am. Look for MWIA staff and show your badge.

Resident and Student Meals: Resident/Student discount registration includes only off-site food in order to maintain lowest prices. Pick up your meal tickets at registration. After dinner, please join to watch the gala entertainment.

MEMBER OF HONOR

The DAK Foundation

Dave and Kerry Rickards founded DAK Foundation in 2010 with a goal to provide the maximum humanitarian benefit to people in need in the developing world, in the most effective way possible. Today DAK focuses exclusively on global health in three key areas: Women’s Health, High Volume Cataract Surgery in Asia, and Essential Medical Equipment. DAK partners with accredited organizations in Australia to support projects in these three areas. We are a small dynamic team that looks to utilize and enhance existing capacity rather than build anything new from the ground up. We are thrilled to have collaborated with MWIA members to distribute ultrasounds to both high-volume urban facilities as well as last-mile service providers.

Medical Student Division Awards

Haffizulla Family Scholarship – Reid Mergler
Shobha S. Krishnan HPV and Cervical Cancer Champion Award – Reid Mergler
Reid Mergler is a fourth year medical student at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine aspiring to pursue an ob/gyn residency. She has had a lifelong passion for women’s health with a strong desire to empower and take care of women of all ages. Before medical school, Reid received her Bachelors in Science degree in the College of Human Ecology at Cornell University. While at Cornell, she pursued research in women’s health with an honors thesis in the Cognitive Effects of Polycystic Ovary Syndrome. While studying abroad in Geneva, Switzerland, she interned at the World Health Organization in the department of Reproductive Health and Research. During 2015-2016, she was the Shadowing and Research Program Coordinator for the Ob/Gyn Interest Group and the Secretary/PR chair for the American Medical Women’s Association (AMWA) chapter at Einstein. In 2016-17, she served as the NY/NJ Region 2 AMWA Director and planned a conference for over 100 attendees at Einstein on "Making a Difference: International Issues in Women’s Health." She currently leads the Young Leaders Program for the Global Initiative Against HPV and Cervical Cancer (GIAHC) and is the National Student Secretary for AMWA. In her free time, Reid enjoys running, traveling, yoga and spending time with friends and family.

Eliza Lo Chin Unsung Hero Award – Michelle Benedict
Michelle Benedict is an incoming MD Candidate at the University of Michigan Medical School (Class of 2023). A non-traditional applicant, Michelle has a Business degree and has been working, up until recently, as an Engineering Project Manager at Apple Inc in the Applied Machine Learning department. Her passion for medicine has evolved through her (published) international medical mission work and artificial intelligence work in Health Technology. She has used her diverse background and skill sets as AMWA’s Director of Research and Development to contribute to AMWA’s Strategic Planning, Mentorship Committee, Membership Committee, PATH, AWHS, Web/Communications/Marketing, and Social Media. She aims to leverage her technology background in her future medical career with biomedical innovations and to empower AMWA members to lead change in such an era of possibility. “I owe this award to the supportive and insightful leaders who have mentored and believed in me — Dr. Eliza Chin, Dr. Fatima Fahs, Dr. Wendy Bernstein, Dr. Amanda Xi, Dr. Connie Newman, Dr. Roberta Gebhard—Thank you so much!”

Linda Brodsky MD Essay Award – Madeline DeWane
Madeline DeWane is a student at the University of Connecticut School of Medicine. She is currently spending the year doing dermatology research and will begin her 4th year of medical school in July, 2018. Originally from East Central Illinois, she received her B.A. from Kenyon College where she double majored in Biology and Spanish Area Studies. She then went on to earn a B.S.N. from the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing. Madeline worked as a critical care nurse for 6 years (first at Johns Hopkins Hospital and then at Yale New Haven Hospital) before entering medical school. She plans to pursue a career in dermatology with a focus on medical dermatology and women’s skin issues. She has special interests in health disparities and medical education and has been an advocate for women in medicine as the founder and president of her school’s AMWA branch. She lives in Hamden, CT with her husband and 2-year-old daughter, Abigail.

Premedical Student Division Awards

Student of the Year Award – Nora Galoustian
Nora Galoustian is currently a third year at UC Berkeley majoring in Molecular and Cell Neurobiology and Minorin Interdisciplinary Human Rights. Since joining as a freshman, AMWA has been a source of empowerment for Nora in overcoming the stigma of Armenian women pursuing medical doctorates, and it has thus propelled her to volunteer her time as an AMWA leader at the local, national, and international level—this is reflected through her involvement as President of the UC Berkeley AMWA Branch, National Executive Student Co-Chair of the Sex and Gender Health Collaborative, Region 2 Premedical Director, and other prior leadership positions. As a volunteer EMT, Nora provides free healthcare services during natural disasters like the Napa Fires last year. She hopes to integrate her healthcare career ambitions with her love for human rights and open healthcare clinics that provide medical services to refugees fleeing genocide, body mutilations, and other human rights violations. Nora is inspired by AMWA’s efforts to empower women in healthcare and women’s health around the world, and hopes to remain involved with AMWA as a healthcare professional.

Branch Member of the Year Award – Lara Rostomian
Lara Rostomian is an undergraduate premedical student at the University of California Berkeley (Class of 2020) studying Integrative Biology and minor in both Theatre and Global Public Health. AMWA is one of the first organizations she joined when starting out at UC Berkeley and is now the Program Director for the Berkeley Chapter. She was the 2017-2018 National AMWA Pre-Medical Conference Chair and thoroughly enjoyed planning the 103rd National Conference alongside so many inspiring members. She then served as the Premedical President-Elect and is now the current President for the Premedical Division. She is currently working as a Health Leads Advocate at West County Health Center in San Pablo and is a student research assistant at the CHAMACOS Research Lab at UC Berkeley’s School of Public Health. She also is preparing to conduct independent research on Family Planning Needs in Armenia in Summer 2019. She admires AMWA’s mission of empowering women physicians and appreciates the support and community AMWA has to offer.

Premedical Education Scholarship – Evelyn Somogyi
"I am taking my medical school pre-requisite courses at The University of Texas at Austin in a post-baccalaureate format. I have been working with Dr. Susan Senft as a co-author for research papers that have helped continue improve technology in the ophthalmology field. We have presented in Washington DC and San Diego the findings from the research done. I volunteer at Seaton Hospital and the local soup kitchen for those in need. I grew up in Seattle, Washington and graduated with a psychology degree from Whittier College in California 2016. I am excited to apply to Medical School May of 2020. I am so thankful for the American Medical Women’s Association and Premedical Student Scholarship. Once I am a practicing physician, I will give back to future members of AMWA similarly to how I was given this opportunity. Thank you so much."

Premedical Education Scholarship – Felicia Reid
Felicia Reid is a Post-Baccalaureate Premedical Certificate Student at American University in Washington, D.C. She received her Bachelor’s degree in Sociology at Franklin and Marshall College in 2011. Prior to beginning her studies at AU, Felicia worked at Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York City in grant administration for the Lymphoma service. After completing her certificate program she plans to study for the MCAT and volunteer at a local hospital in D.C. During her application gap year, she will be applying to Masters in Health and Public Policy programs. She hopes to advance her knowledge in biomedical research, medicine, and finding ways to advocate for those without a voice.

Artist-in-Residence 2018-2019 - Vidya Viswanathan, MD
I am a pediatrics intern at the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia, and I spent a large portion of my medical school experience advocating for the preservation and encouragement of creativity in medicine. I founded Doctors Who Create, which publishes essays, art, interviews, and podcasts highlighting creative work in medicine. This spring our inaugural conference, Creativity in Medicine, was held at the Mutter Museum in Philadelphia. My own particular creative passion, which was supported by the AMWA artist-in-residence award this year, is writing. I write in order to understand and create progress in our medical culture. I specifically wanted to use my narrative writing this year to shed light on biases that women in medicine can face. In one piece, published on www.vox.com, I wrote about how women, particularly women of color, encounter bias in medical training--yet there is little consensus or training on how to address this pervasive bias. This piece spurred online discussions about what it means to be taken less seriously as a minority in medicine. In the piece, I reflect on how our intersectional identities dictate how we are treated in medicine, how harmful it can be to ignore the racist or sexist comments or behaviors directed at colleagues, and how medical institutions can acknowledge and address this issue more openly. Through the piece, I hoped to contribute to the national conversation on gender bias in medicine, an area of advocacy for AMWA. Additional writings on women in medicine will be also be coming out in AMWA's blog later this year.

One highlight this year was having the opportunity to be a guest on the FemInEM podcast (feminem.org) to discuss my work in supporting women in medicine in their creative endeavors. I truly believe in the power of narrative to influence social discourse and enact change, and I was privileged to have the support of AMWA to work on crafting different types of narratives to share broadly in an attempt to shed light on issues of gender in medicine. AMWA Artist in Residence 2019-2020 – Somalee Banerjee, MD
Somalee Banerjee is a hospitalist at Kaiser Permanente, Oakland and does health services research with the Division of Research at Kaiser Permanente. She also works in health services research in India as a Senior Research Fellow at Neerman, a public health research consulting company. She has a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Painting from the Sam Fox School of Art at Washington University, and has shown work at group shows around the country. Her art work revolves around creating allegories for her personal experiences as a South Asian woman living in the US. She has also been involved in graphic design work to improve patient education materials in the US as well as in Malaysia.

VOICES OF WOMEN IN MEDICINE – AMWA PARTNERS WITH IN OUR CARE
Using photojournalism and personal interviews as tools to dispel antiquated views of women in medicine, In Our Care partnered with AMWA to promote the visibility of women in medicine and to inspire change in workforce climate. Physicians and residents, share your narrative and pragmatic solutions to retaining joy in medicine. https://inourcare.typeform.com/to/cEMUkf. IN MEMORIAM
Dr. Waltraud Diekhaus was a great advocate for gender equality and the empowerment of women. She worked as both a sports medicine and occupational health physician in Dortmund, Germany. Succeeding Dr. Carolyn Motzel, she served as Secretary General from 1998 to 2007, and did an excellent job as the administrative lead of MWIA. She served from 2010-2013 as the Vice President for Central Europe. Dr. Diekhaus was a popular figure at the MWIA meetings, where her opinions were often sought. She fought her battle with ovarian cancer valiantly but passed away in her 77th year in February 2018. She is survived by her husband, Dr. Helmut Diekhaus and her twin sons. She will be missed by many at MWIA who called her their friend and colleague.

Dr. Atsuko Heshiki of Japan. Dr. Heshiki was Past President of the Medical Women’s International Association (2007-2010) and Chair of the MWIA Centennial Committee. She was the leading proponent within MWIA to lobby for New York as the location for the 2019 MWIA Centennial Meeting. She will be greatly missed but fondly remembered for her dedication to MWIA, her successful career as a Professor of Radiology, her lovely personality and her command of ballroom dancing. AMWA created the Dr. Atsuko Heshiki MWIA Centennial Fund to help carry out and honor her vision for the MWIA Centennial. We have dedicated the Atsuko Heshiki hospitality room at the MWIA Congress to remember her as the late Chair of the MWIA Centennial Committee.

VIVIAN E. SHIH GRADUATE MEDICAL EDUCATION FUND

AMWA is proud to announce the Vivian E. Shih Fund which will support initiatives in Graduate Medical Education for women in medicine. Dr. Vivian Shih has had a long and storied career as one of the leading experts in inherited disorders of amino acid and related metabolism. Born in China, she graduated from National Taiwan University of Medicine, completing her residency and fellowship in pediatric neurology in the U.S. She was promoted to full professor at Harvard Medical School in 1988. For decades until her retirement, Dr. Shih was Director of the Amino Acid Disorders Laboratory at MGH and a pioneering scientist whose research has led to critical advancement of the field. She has published over 140 articles in peer reviewed journals and served as President of the Society for Inherited Metabolic Disorders.

Donate at amwa-doc.org/donate. (first $3000 will be matched by the family).

Congratulations to Dr. Amanda Xi, the Inaugural Vivian E. Shih Scholar. Through her work in AMWA and the ACGME, Dr. Xi is working on initiatives to improve physician wellness, professional advancement, and parental leave policies for resident physicians.
MWIA was founded in 1919. WWI had just ended, and women physicians with the American Women’s Hospitals (AWH), founded by the American Medical Women’s Association (AMWA) were returning from their service abroad for the war effort. Coincidentally, an international conference of women physicians was being hosted by the Young Women’s Christian Association (YWCA) in New York City. AMWA hosted a dinner at the Waldorf Astoria (now the site of the Empire State Building) to celebrate the return of the AWH physicians and invited the international women physicians to attend. It was at that first meeting on October 21, 1919 that the idea of an international association of women physicians was born. And on October 25, 1919 the first organizational meeting of MWIA took place at the Waldorf Astoria under the leadership of a committee of twelve: Dr. Grace Ritchie England (Canada), Dr. Marie Feyler (Switzerland), Dr. Tomo Inouye (Japan), Dr. Radmilla Lazarevitch (Serbia), Dr. Clelia Lollini (Italy), Dr. Esther Lovejoy (United States), Dr. Kristine Munch (Norway), Dr. Yvonne Pouzin (France), Dr. Regina Stang (Norway), Dr. Alma Sundquist (Sweden), Dr. L. Thuillier-Landry (France), Dr. Martha Welpton (United States)

The following officers were elected: Dr. Esther Lovejoy (US) - President, Dr. Christine Murrell (US) - 1st Vice-President, Dr. L. Thuillier-Landry (France) - 2nd Vice-President, Dr. Kristine Munch (Norway) - 3rd Vice-President, Dr. Marth Feyler (Switzerland) - Recording Secretary, Dr. Martha Welpton (United States) – Corresponding Secretary, Dr. Ellen C. Potter (United States) – Treasurer

Over the past century, MWIA initiatives have focused on:

- Issues of interest to medical women: work-life balance, maternity leave, career progression, fighting discrimination, mentoring of young medical doctors and students.
- Scientific and service delivery projects related to health and well-being, locally, nationally and internationally
- Training modules for physicians on gender mainstreaming, violence against women and girls, and adolescent sexuality

Endowed Chair of Women’s Health
Froedtert and Medical College of Wisconsin Health System

The Division of General Internal Medicine in the Department of Medicine at the Medical College of Wisconsin (MCW) is seeking a dynamic leader to develop a new Comprehensive Women’s Health Program through the expansion of our Women’s Health Research Program. This position is made possible by a generous gift from the Melitta S. and Joan M. Pick Charitable Trust and will hold the distinguished title as the Georgia Carroll Chair in Women’s Health.

Candidates for this role should be nationally recognized in women’s health and should be engaged in established and funded clinical or outcomes research in women’s health. The successful candidate will hold a faculty appointment with the Medical College of Wisconsin and will work collaboratively with providers in multiple areas of expertise to develop this program. Reporting to the Chief of General Internal Medicine (GIM), the new Endowed Chair will develop the Comprehensive Women’s Health Program that focuses on gender differences more broadly to spark research, teaching and clinical practice to enhance health outcomes for women throughout southeastern Wisconsin. The ideal candidate will have the option of serving as Section Chief for Research in the Division of General Internal Medicine.

Candidate requirements include: MD/DO with a track record of professional leadership roles in an academic institution; fellowship in general internal medicine; national recognition as a leader in women’s health; and B/C in internal medicine.

The Medical College of Wisconsin’s division of General Internal Medicine is the largest division within the Department of Medicine’s 10 academic divisions. The Division provides clinical service in the areas of inpatient, primary, and urgent care at both Froedtert Hospital and the Clement J. Zablocki VA Medical Center.

Please contact Jennifer Schaulin at (682) 223-5782 or via email at jennifer.schaulin@millicansolutions.com for more details about the opportunity. All inquiries and referrals will remain confidential without your prior approval.

The Medical College of Wisconsin is an EEO/AA Employer M/F/D/V.
