

MASTER OF MEDICAL MANAGEMENT

CMU + AMWA = CAREER IMPACT

Only 11% of health care
CEOs are women.

Women in health care face gaps in pay, mentoring, and career advancement. You recognize the inequity and want to be part of changing the industry.

CMU and AMWA are dedicated to advancing the careers of women in medicine, and have partnered to offer current AMWA members a $2,000 tuition scholarship. AMWA members may also be considered for the full tuition scholarship for the promotion of women in leadership.

CMU Can Propel Women to Shape the Future of Health Care

MMM SCHOLARSHIP FOR THE PROMOTION OF WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

Each year, Heinz College awards a full-tuition MMM Scholarship for the Promotion of Women in Leadership to an exceptional physician in the Master of Medical Management for Physicians (MMM) program's incoming class.

In order to be eligible for this award, the physician's primary employment at the time of admission must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- federally qualified healthcare center
- institution providing care for underserved populations
- institution/clinic funded through local, state, or regional government and/or donations/grants

Selection will be based on the physician's potential for excellence in the field of medical management. Preference will be given to physicians of any gender (i) who have demonstrated (within their admissions essay and/ or resume) interest and commitment to the promotion of women in leadership in medicine; and/ or (ii) who are active members of AMWA.

The award will include a 100% tuition scholarship to the recipient. If the recipient is a member of American Medical Women's Association (AMWA), they may also be eligible for additional support for travel and hotel expenses for MMM onsite sessions directly from AMWA.

At Carnegie Mellon University, you can get the data analytics, information systems, and quantitative management skills you need to be an effective and adaptable health care executive, ready for the future of health care.

Our physicians-only Master of Medical Management (MMM) program is offered by CMU's world-renowned Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy. We have over 500 MMM physician alumni who have mastered the skills sought by governing boards and other top executives in health care.

FROM BEDSIDE TO BOARDROOM

Carnegie Mellon University's MMM program will prepare you for leadership at the highest level, whether it's in hospitals, health systems, universities, insurers, or medical companies. Within five years of graduating from CMU's MMM program, a majority of our graduates attain the role of CMO, CEO, or another C-level or VP position.

WHY CMU?

CMU is at the forefront of technological change, and offers an innovative perspective on health care. Technology and new business models are challenging the status quo, and with our deep expertise in advanced tech, data analytics, and evidence-based management, we're able to take a radically different approach to leadership than other institutions, particularly those associated with medical schools.

In our MMM program, we'll prepare you to rethink what's possible, and give you the ability to evolve along with a rapidly changing field. As a graduate of CMU, you will be part of a select group leading the way and revolutionizing health care organizations.
